

Nerve Slavery

It is present-day conditions—heapings of work upon the nervous system that tell the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves letting go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, the nerve force, is impaired. The liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

Throbbing, palpitating heart.
Sleepless nights.
Sudden startings.
Morning lassitude.
Brain fog.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Dilatation of pupils.
Tired heavy.
Easily excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Settled melancholia.

THE LOAD LIFTED

Biggest Industrial Strike On Record Is At Last Settled.

MINERS GOING TO WORK

Convention to Determine the Matter Was Unanimous In Favor of Accepting Proposition.

Work Will Be Resumed Tomorrow and Arbiters Will Settle Mooted Questions.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 22.—With a shout that fairly shook the convention building the representatives of the 147,000 mine workers who have been on strike since last May officially declared off the greatest contest ever waged between capital and labor, and placed all the questions involved in the struggle into the hands of the arbitration commission appointed by the president of the United States. When the news was flashed to the towns and villages down in the valleys and on the mountains of the coal regions, the strike-affected inhabitants heaved a sigh of relief. Many days had gone by since such welcome news had been received. Everywhere there was rejoicing, and in many places the end of the strike was the signal for impromptu town celebrations. The anthracite coal region from its largest city—Scranton—down to the lowliest coal patch, has suffered by the conflict, and everyone now looks for better times. While the large army of mine workers and their families, number approximately a half million persons, are grateful that work is to be resumed on Thursday, the strikers have still to learn what their reward will be. President Roosevelt having taken prompt action in calling the arbitrators together for their first meeting on Friday, the miners hope they will know by Thanksgiving day what practical gain they have made. The vote to resume coal mining was a unanimous one and was reached only after a warm debate. The principal objection to accepting the arbitration proposition was that no provision was contained in the scheme to take care of those men who would fail to get back their old positions or would be unable to get any work at all. The engineers and pumpmen get better pay than other classes of mine workers, and they did not wish to run the risk of losing altogether their old places and be compelled to dig coal for a living. This question came up Monday and was argued right up to the time the vote was taken. No one had a definite plan to offer to overcome the objection, and the report of the committee on resolutions recommending that the strike be declared off and that all issues be placed in the hands of the arbitration commission for decision was adopted without the question being settled. A few moments before adjournment, however, a partial solution was reached, when a delegate in the farthest corner of the hall moved that the problem be placed in the hands of the executive board for solution, and his suggestion was adopted. The proceedings in the convention indicate that there will be some friction in some of the local organizations over many little questions which will come up in connection with the men returning to the mines.

President Mitchell received many congratulatory telegrams from all over the country after the news spread that the strike was ended. On his return to headquarters he was asked for an expression of his views on the action of the convention, and in reply he said: "I am well pleased with the action of the anthracite mine workers in deciding to submit the issues which culminated in the strike to the commission selected by the president of the United States. The strike itself has demonstrated the power and dignity of labor. Conservative, intelligent trade unionism has received an impetus the effect of which cannot be measured. I earnestly hope and firmly believe that both labor and capital have learned lessons from the miners' strike which will enable them to adopt peaceful, humane and business methods of adjusting wage differences in the future."

After Mr. Mitchell had notified President Roosevelt of the action of the convention and had received a reply to the effect that the commission would meet in Washington on Friday, he sent out the official announcement through the press to the strikers that the strike was off. It was addressed to all miners and mine workers in the anthracite region.

LITTLE FRICION

Is Expected Between Factions at the Mines.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 22.—There was no special demonstration here last evening over the receipt of the news that the mine strike had ended. This is accounted for by the fact that the news was confidently expected. Groups of miners stood about the principal streets in the city and in the suburbs waiting word from Wilkesbarre. When it finally came there was a very evident feeling of gratification among them, but not such as moved them to any particular display of enthusiasm. The belief here is that the non-union men who have been working during the strike will be a rather diminutive quantity on Thursday morning. Already those of them who were brought here from other places are returning to their homes in large numbers. Superintendent Rose of the Delaware & Hudson company, said that he thought there would be places for all the old employees. A few, he said, who have been leading assaults on the company's property and employees will not be taken back under any consideration. The district body gave permission to blacksmiths, engineers, firemen, timber men, fire hoses and pumpmen to return to work today to assist in getting the mines ready for resumption.

MORDED THE COURT

Texas Mob Takes Prisoners Away From the Court.

Hempstead, Tex., Oct. 22.—After being tried in legal form and procedure for criminal assault and murder and given the death penalty in each case, Jim Wesley and Reddick Barton, negroes, were late yesterday afternoon taken from the authorities of this city and lynched in the public square by an infuriated mob. The district judge Monday asked the governor for militia to accompany the negroes here from the jail at Houston, where they were safe. At the request of a large number of citizens of Hempstead who, it is said, signed a written promise to aid the authorities in preventing any mob law, Judge Thompson yesterday countermanded his request and the troops did not accompany the negroes. Barton was first tried. He pleaded guilty to criminal assault and then to the murder of Mrs. Susan Lewis, aged sixty-three, Sunday, Oct. 12. The jury in each case, on which were several negroes, promptly returned verdicts assessing the death penalty. During the afternoon Wesley was put on trial. He pleaded guilty to assault and then to the murder charge. While his trial was proceeding a mob broke into the courtroom and attempted to take him, it having been ascertained that the sheriff had asked for troops. The mob was dispersed, however, and the trial proceeded, the state putting forward its testimony hurriedly in corroboration of the negroes' plea of guilty. Both juries assessed the death penalty. The officers of the court sat about the room at the conclusion of the trial, awaiting the coming of the militia, when there was a sudden movement on the part of several men in the room; the sheriff was overpowered and Wesley was taken in possession by the mob and hurried away. Another portion of the mob, while this was going on, attacked the jail, where Barton had been taken when his trial was over, and the prisoner was surrendered to them without a struggle. The two prisoners were hustled to the public square and there executed by hanging. Neither of them had been sentenced, although District Judge Thompson positively refused to permit them to waive the thirty days of grace allowed them by law. The suggestion to burn the negroes met with small favor. It was the general desire that they die quickly. They were hanging last night to the arm of a telephone pole, where only last month another negro murderer had been strung up by a mob.

MANY LIVES LOST

Fire In a Glucose Factory Envelops Building In a Flash.

A CHICAGO HOLOCAUST

Midnight Blaze That Cut Off the Escape of Workmen On Seventh Floor.

Before They Realized Their Awful Danger Chance of Escape Was Cut Off.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—By a fire which broke out shortly before midnight in the plant of the Chicago Glucose Sugar refinery situated at Taylor street and the Chicago river, that factory was almost entirely destroyed and ten or twelve men lost their lives. The number of dead has not been established as yet, but it is known that this many men were in the building and all were working on the seventh floor. The flames spread so rapidly that the men on this floor could not avoid death, and their bodies must have been consumed in the ruins.

The fire started in the drying house, being caused by an explosion. The flames spread with almost incredible rapidity, and by the time the first fire department had arrived the building was ablaze from foundation to roof. It was impossible for the firemen to make any effective fight against the flames, and in a short time all the flames were down, and the building within a half-hour from the time of the explosion was a mass of debris.

The men on the seventh floor had no chance whatever for their lives. Several of them left the windows and crawled along the sills in an effort to reach a place of safety, but with the exception of two men all those who attempted to reach safety in this way made up their minds that it was certain death, and went back into the burning building. The two men, however, determined to take the chances of a leap, and climbing upon the window ledge, they sprang out into the air. One of them came straight down for the greater part of the way, but just as he was within a short distance of the pavement his body swung around and he struck the stone wall at full length. The other man turned over and over as he came whirling down. Their bodies were horribly crushed and mangled, and it was impossible for any of the men who saw them directly after their jump, to identify them in any way.

He has been recognized as a dangerous anarchist who has already been convicted three times, and upon two of these occasions for manufacturing explosive machines. The police are trying to keep the matter quiet and refuse to divulge the man's name.

Bishop Gaylor in his sermon defined Christianity as a religion of devotion, absolutely and unconditionally, of person, mind and body, to Jesus Christ, being therein unlike Buddhism, a religion of method, or Mohammedanism, a religion of a book.

SEEKING WILD WOMAN

People in the LaPorte Neighborhood Terrorized By Strange Actions of Unknown Woman.

She Hides In the Woods and Her Screams Carry Terror to Timid Hearts.

La Porte, Ind., Oct. 22.—A posse of men are engaged in scouring the woods for a wild woman, who, in a nude condition, has been terrorizing the neighborhood in the northern part of this county for a number of days. The woman gives vent to uncanny and weird cries, and every effort to disclose her identity has proved futile. It is claimed that the woman is a married woman and during the last week has been living on vegetables taken from gardens near the woods in which she has been living. She will not permit anyone to approach her and at the sight of a human being she conceals herself in the underbrush.

MADE UP A DUMMY

And By This Means Slipped Out of Jail.

New Albany, Ind., Oct. 22.—Norman Miller, who was in jail here awaiting removal to the Indiana reformatory to serve a sentence on a charge of larceny, escaped from the jail yesterday. He placed a dummy in his cell and concealed himself. When their meal was brought to the prisoners Miller slipped by the jailer. He carried his shoes in his hands and put them on when he reached the edge of the city.

Kept Secret Well.

Rensselaer, Ind., Oct. 22.—Suit for $20,000 has been brought in the Jasper circuit court by John McLaughlin against W. E. Russell, one of the county's wealthiest farmers. McLaughlin and Russell's daughter were married a year ago, and the girl's father has since kept her at home and is charged with alienating her affections from her husband. The marriage was a secret, and the suit was the first intimation of their marriage.

A Strange Varmin.

Greenfield, Ind., October 22.—That strange wild animal has bobbed up again and this time frightened Nolan Fry until he shook like an aspen leaf. Fry says the animal stood on its hind legs and faced him. It was as large as a Newfoundland dog, its eyes were the size of silver dollars and fiery red. Fry ran all the way to town to tell his story and was badly frightened.

RECORD-BREAKING CROWDS

Will Greet Senator Hanna On His Swing Through Indiana.

Indianapolis, Oct. 22.—The state committee has completed the arrangements for the trip of Senator Hanna. Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge will join him at Cincinnati tonight, when a big mass meeting will be held. They will go from Cincinnati to Evansville during the night by the L. & N. road. The trip in Indiana will begin at Evansville early Thursday morning. Besides Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, Chairman Goodrich, Secretary Whitaker, and several members of congress will be in the party. The train will stop at Princeton, Washington, Vincennes, Terre Haute, Brazil and Greencastle en route to Indianapolis, where a great rally will be held at night in Tomlinson hall. The itinerary for Friday includes Anderson, Muncie, Portland, Red Key, Hartford City, Marion, Bunker Hill, Logansport and South Bend. Reports that come to the committee headquarters are that arrangements are being made for many all-day rallies, and Chairman Goodrich is confident that if the weather is fine Senator Hanna will be greeted by record-breaking crowds.

There is a faint suspicion among federal employees that the free rural mail carriers are contemplating a national organization of powerful scope. They met here a few days ago as a state organization, but they have state organizations elsewhere, and it is believed that they will get together in a national body as soon as they become more numerous. This branch of the mail service is becoming more numerous. The meeting here resulted in a resolution asking for an allowance of $250 a year for horse hire. A man who has been watching the trend predicts that this is but the first step in a movement to obtain an advance of wages. If the rural mail carriers should form a national organization they would be so powerful that a politician who had become an office holder would hardly dare oppose their measures. The letter carriers have a powerful organization, and it is now entering politics to the extent of trying to defeat Congressman Loud of California, who has stood in the way of the passage of a bill raising their salary to $2,200 a year.

Ginseng farming is to be tried in Indiana by a company that has just been incorporated. The promoters think there is a great field for the business. Half a century or even a quarter century ago the woods were full of ginseng. Most any farmer boy could go out and dig up a few pounds a day. But this did not last. The demand became too strong, until now the export is more than 500,000 pounds a year. This ginseng brings over $6 a pound. It all goes to China, where it is a specific for all manner of ills. The report of a United States consul to that country is to the effect that millions of pounds more could be used if it could be supplied. The local company proposes to plant two acres, and in a year it hopes to have its first crop. A Missouri man it is said made $20,000 the first year's crop off an acre and a half of ground. As an evidence of the value of the root now it is said that ginseng seeds are retelling at 5 cents apiece, while two or three-year-old plants come at a fancy figure. The experiment of the ginseng farmers will be watched with much interest.

It is probable that John Mitchell will get a rousing reception when he returns to Indianapolis from the anthracite region. This is not Mitchell's home, but he is well known here, as the headquarters of the mine workers is located here. The organized labor men desire to give him some kind of a testimonial, so there is talk now of a public reception for him.

COURTING DANGER

It is courting danger to stand under icy eaves. Not a few have learned this to their cost. Every winter injury and even death are reported as the result of this carelessness. But there is a far more popular way of courting danger. Every man or woman who neglects a cough is inviting sickness, and many a fatal sickness has its beginning in a slight cough.

The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure the cough. Even when the cough is obstinate and there is hemorrhage with emaciation and weakness, "Golden Medical Discovery" always helps and almost always cures.

"I was troubled with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and left me with a miserable cough," writes Mr. Joseph D. Burns, of 318 Hustis Street, Ithaca, New York. "I used two bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' after which my cough disappeared entirely. I can not recommend your medicine too highly."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs. Substitution means a little more profit to the dealer but a loss to you.

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1003 large pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
